Call Fighting Setback To Communists

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. infantrymen battled back today against new attacks from tough North Vietnamese regulars entrenched in the central highlands near Dak To. Gen. William C. Westmoreland said seven days of fighting in the area near Dak To has resulted in a "severe setback" for the Communists.

Initial field reports said American soldiers killed three more Communist troops in a two and a half hour skirmish today, while one more U.S. soldier was killed. This raised total casualties for the week in the area to 209 Communists and 45 Americans killed and 130 Americans wounded, the U.S. Command said.

Westmoreland flew to Dak To for a first-hand survey and on his return told newsmen in Saigon: "I believe the Communist forces have suffered a severe setback in their plans for operating in the Dak To area. The recent contact is a North Vietnamese attempt to recoup valuable propaganda lost during the recent Republic of Vietnam elections and National Day."

Other officers believed the upsurge of activity and the determined Communist resistance in the central highlands could be the prelude to a new Communist offensive there now that the monsoons have moved north.

The air war against North Vietnam cost the United States three Air Force planes and two fliers Wednesday, the U.S. Command announced, including an F4 Phantom downed by a Communist MIG21's air-to-air missile in a dogfight west of Hanoi. This brought total losses in the North Tuesday and Wednesday to five planes and five fliers and raised to 732 the total number of American combat planes officially reported lost in the northern aerial war.

The U.S. Command reported an increase in U.S. and enemy troops killed in Vietnam last week while South Vietnamese casualties were less than the week before. It said 178 Americans were killed and 793 wounded in the seven day period ending Saturday, while 1,894 enemy were killed.

South Vietnamese casualties last week were 160 killed, 533 wounded and 60 missing, the government said. The week before 166 Americans, 1,628 enemy and 220 South Vietnamese were reported killed.

In fighting Wednesday night near Dak To, two companies from the U.S. 4th Infantry Division stood off a three-pronged ground, mortar and rocket attack and drove the Communists off with the aid of a massive bombardment by artillery, tactical fighter-bombers and giant B52s, headquarters reported.

Officers said they counted 102 North Vietnamese dead on the battlefield, while American casualties were six dead and 15 wounded.

"There are more North Vietnamese bodies in the area," a spokesman said, "but we had to stop our sweep because of the new attack."

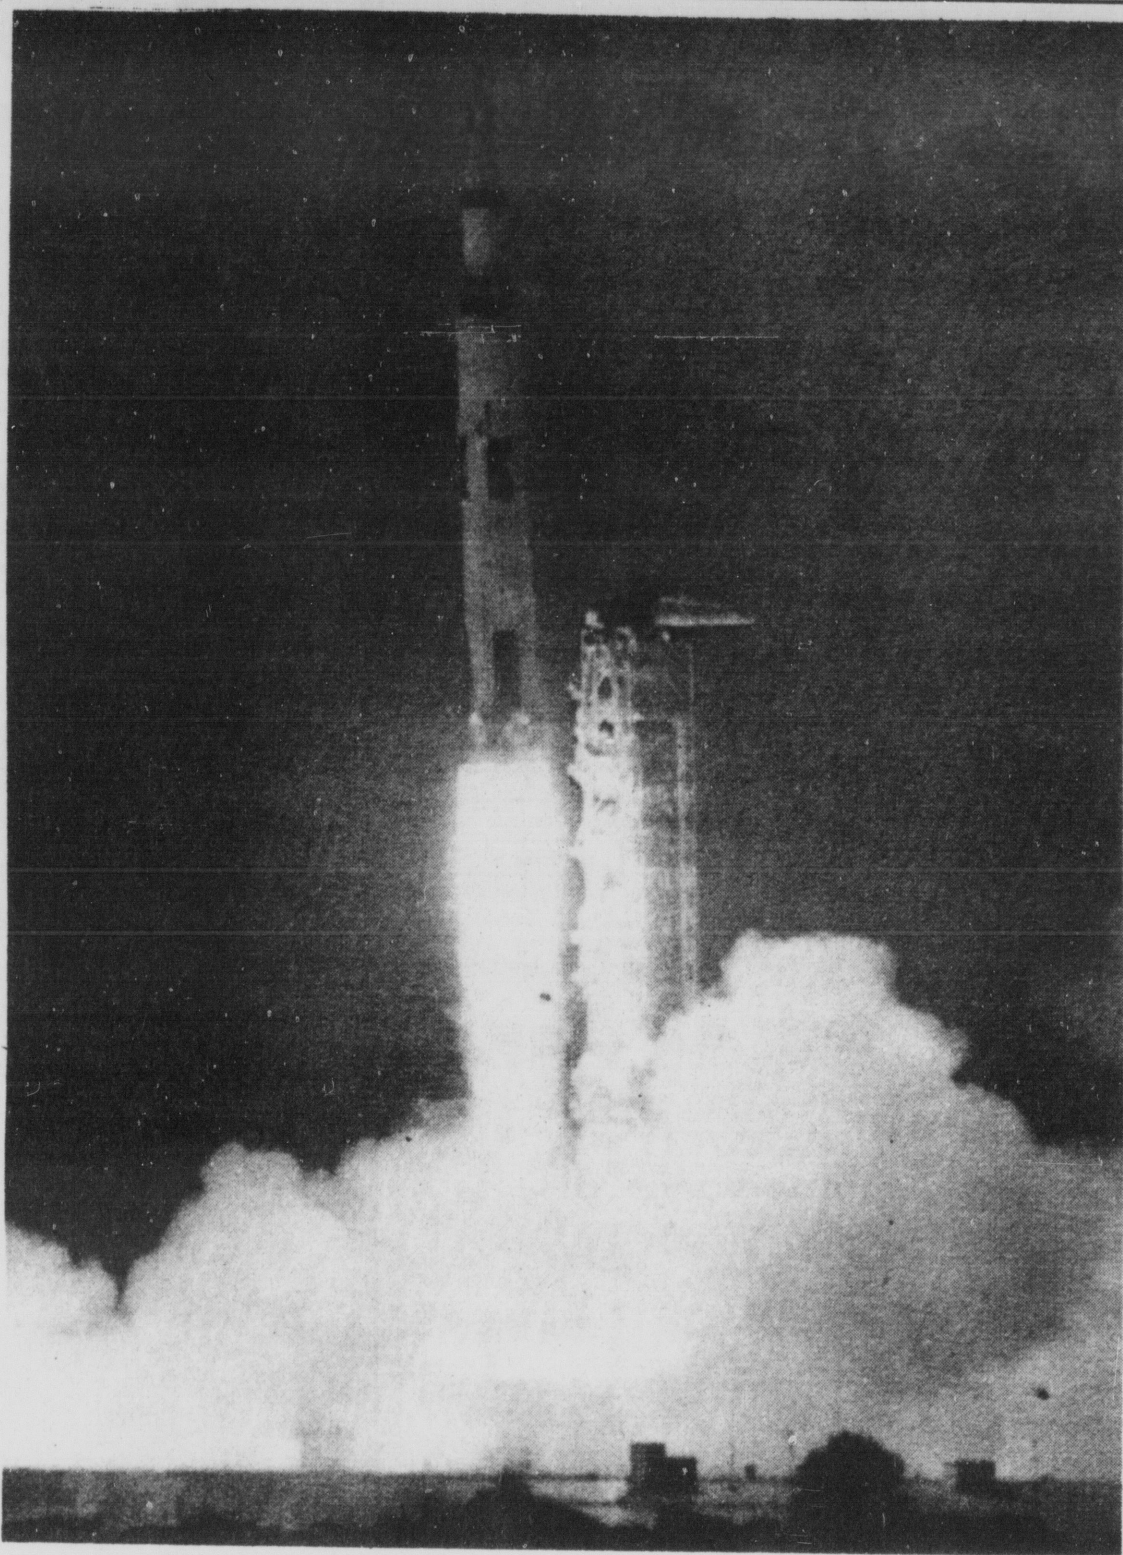

The Communists opened up again with mortar and small arms fire on U.S. troops who pushed forward today from night defensive positions while the big B52s attacked to the west to block the enemy's escape routes.

M.P.S.C. Strike At 'Standstill'

The strike of Local 814 of the International Brotherhood Electrical Workers against the Missouri Public Service Co., which began Oct. 30, is now nearly two weeks old and negotiations are at a "standstill," according to Clinton Black, district manager for the M.P.S.C.

The strike, which idled 50 people locally, has caused no interruption in service according to Black. The company has maintained service with supervisory personnel.

Black also stated that although he knew of no new negotiations at the present, there may be some discussion at the company headquarters in Kansas City.

No Leads In Probe Of Death

The Missouri Highway Patrol said Thursday that they had no leads or suspects in the shooting of Jesse G. Vaughan, 72, Tuscumbia, during the holdup of his store Wednesday on Missouri State Highway 17, eight miles south of Tuscumbia.

Vaughan was the father of L. R. "Jack" Vaughan, 1624 South Barrett.

Previous reports had indicated that Vaughan was slain by blows on the head, but a spokesman at the Charles Still Hospital in Jefferson City said Wednesday that an autopsy had shown that Vaughan had been shot in the head.

The Missouri Highway Patrol also reported that they had found no projectile at the scene and that there were no fingerprints.

The store was apparently robbed sometime between 1:30 and 3:15 p.m. Wednesday, when Mr. Vaughan was found by Mr. and Mrs. Don Harris, who live a half mile from the store.

According to Mrs. Jennie Farris, a deputy sheriff of Miller County, the store had been ransacked and the cash register emptied.

The Patrol reported it was doubtful the thief obtained much money as Vaughan was said to never had kept much money around the place. Following the death of Mrs. Vaughan, September 6, he continued to maintain his home at the rear of the store, where they had living quarters.

Mr. Vaughan was born at Clarksburg, Mo., Oct. 31, 1895. On Oct. 3, 1917 he was married to Rachel Gabriel.

Surviving are five sons, Lester Vaughan, Sedalia; Ralph Vaughan, Clarksburg; Lloyd Vaughan, Russellville; Earl Vaughan, North Carolina; Carl Vaughan, Jefferson City; two daughters, Mrs. Ruth Harris, Lohman; Mrs. Ruby Hendley, Iberia; three sisters, Mrs. Geneva Schlup, California; Mrs. Susan Gabriel, California; Mrs. Anna Gabriel, state of California; one brother, Calvin Gabriel, California; 21 grandchildren and eight great grandchildren.

His son who resides in Sedalia but employed in St. Louis, was notified and went to Jefferson City.

No funeral arrangements have been made.

Traffic Deaths Drop in Missouri

CHICAGO (AP) — Traffic deaths in Missouri and Kansas for the first nine months of this year are well under the national average, the National Safety Council reported today.

Partly cloudy to cloudy and mild this afternoon with highs in the 60's. Partly cloudy tonight with lows in mid-40's; partly cloudy to cloudy tomorrow with highs in the 60's. Precipitation probabilities are less than five per cent today, five per cent tonight and ten per cent tomorrow.

The temperature Thursday was 50 at 7 a.m., and 56 at noon. Low Wednesday night was 45.

Veterans Day Parade Is Scheduled

A Veterans Day parade, climaxed by ceremonies at the Doughboy Statue at the Pettis County Courthouse, are set for Saturday morning, Nov. 11, according to Lawrence England, parade marshal.

The parade will form at Seventh and Ohio, go north on Ohio to Main, then west to Osage and south to Fifth for the ceremonies at the courthouse.

Col. Harrison Christy, deputy base commander at Whiteman AFB, will be the guest speaker for the courthouse ceremonies, which will begin at 11 a.m. The parade begins about 10 a.m.

It will include the Smith-Cotton Senior band, Smithton Band, Green Ridge Band, Warsaw Band, Smith-Cotton Junior Band, Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts. Representation from Red Cross, National Guard and Veterans organizations is also expected. Guests will be Mayor Ralph Walker, State Senator John Ryan, Rep. Joe Raines, Henry Lamm, presiding judge of the county court, and his associate judges, E. L. Birdsong and Zeb Thomas and Col. Harrison.

A Gold Star Mother will place a wreath at the Doughboy Statue as part of the ceremony.

Can't Stomach The Evidence

FULTON, Mo. (AP)—A man arrested on a forgery charge made an unsuccessful attempt to gobble up the evidence.

Reed Wright, Fulton police officer, said Ralph David Fletcher, Hopkinsville, Ky., was picked up after writing a check at a Fulton men's wear store.

Wright said Fletcher tried to chew up the check.

Police said the paper apparently wasn't very tasty for Fletcher spit it out.

Order Cleared By LBJ

WASHINGTON (AP) — Draft chief Lewis B. Hershey says the White House knew in advance of his order that local draft boards revoke deferments of college students who won't carry their draft cards or who interfere with campus military recruiting.

"The answer is easily 'yes,'" Lt. Gen. Hershey told newsmen Wednesday when asked if he had conferred with the White House before issuing the order.

"It's hard not to confer with the White House," the Selective Service director added. Hershey is directly responsible to President Johnson and reports directly rather than through intermediaries.

Hershey said the Oct. 26 order, issued five days after a mass protest at the Pentagon, wouldn't apply to students peacefully protesting the draft or the Vietnam war but only to those who violate a law enacted earlier this year.

The law, spurred in Congress by demonstrations where draft cards were burned, provides maximum penalties of a five-year prison term and $10,000 fine for persons who illegally interfere with the draft law or regulations issued under it.

Hershey said regulations allow deferred registrants without their draft cards to be reclassified as available for service, with their names advanced to the top of the draft call list.

Saturn 5 Space Shot Is Brilliant Success

Apollo 4 Moonship Hurlled High in Shot

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — America's Saturn 5 super-rocket scored a resounding success on its maiden test flight today, orbiting a record 40-ton space vehicle and shooting the unmanned Apollo 4 moonship deep into space.

The historic flight gave this nation's man-in-space program a much-needed shot in the arm and revived hopes that U.S. astronauts can still land on the moon in this decade.

With a thundering burst of power, the most powerful rocket ever assembled blasted away from its launch pad at exactly 7 a.m. EST today after a perfect countdown — something that few people believed possible for such a complex machine.

The three stages of the monster Saturn 5 ignited with drill-like precision during an 11-minute boost phase and shoved the massive payload, including the still-attached third stage, into orbit 115 miles high.

Three hours later, after two orbits of the globe, the hydrogen powered third stage restarted its engine on ground command and propelled the 64,000-pound Apollo 4 vehicle outward toward a high point of 11,400 miles.

The reignition of the third stage gave flight controllers an anxious moment. A vent valve refused to respond to commands to close, until the last moment when it finally closed.

The spacecraft separated from the stage and a motor on board fired for 15 seconds to provide final power to reach the planned altitude. Had it burned a few seconds longer, Apollo 4 could have gone to the moon, but that was not planned for today's flight because of the need to test the heat shield on re-entry.

After reaching the 11,400-mile altitude, the spacecraft was to plunge back through the atmosphere at nearly 25,000 miles an hour—the speed at which astronauts will return from the moon. The fiery dive would determine how well the heat shield survives re-entry temperatures expected to reach 4,500 degrees.

Apollo 4 was to parachute to a landing in a rough Pacific Ocean, 622 miles northwest of Hawaii, at 3:41 p.m.

Of today's rocket, only the Apollo spacecraft was to come home to earth. The mammoth first stage fell apart, plunging into the Atlantic, although a chunk eight feet long was sighted in the sea. The second and third stages and the Apollo service module were consigned to destruction in fiery re-entries.

"It's been a flight almost incredibly free of any problems," commented a spokesman at NASA's Manned Spacecraft Center in Houston, Tex., where the mission was being controlled.

An hour after the world's most powerful rocket blazed away from Cape Kennedy, the Apollo program manager, Air

Rep. Rains Files For Reelection

State Representative Joe F. Rains, of the 115th District, has filed for the nomination and reelection to the House of Representatives of Missouri. Rains filed his declaration with Secretary of State James C. Kirkpatrick, Tuesday. He seeks a third term in the Legislature.

Rep. Joe F. Rains

Rep. Rains represents the northern half of Pettis County and all but two precincts of the City of Sedalia. During his first term he served on the Education, Agriculture, Government Organization and Roads and Highways Committees. He is now a member of the Appropriations Committee; Vice-Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee; and a member of the Agriculture Committee.

For more than 20 years he has owned and operated the Food Land Market, at Broadway and Hancock. He has served the Missouri Grocers Association on its board and also as president, as well as having served two terms as president of the Sedalia Association and a member of its board.

During the past session Rains was active in enlargement of the Missouri State Fair appropriations and obtaining funds to construct a new grandstand as well as other capital improvements on the fair grounds. Rains also points with pride to the new road and bridge across Flat Creek which replaced the Old Covered Bridge after it burned. He was instrumental in seeking the aid from the Missouri State Highway Department in getting the bridge built. This program is nearly two years ahead of its previous schedule.

He is married to Yvonne W. McMurdo and they have three children. The family resides at 700 East 10th Street.

Both Parties Claim Gains

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats and Republicans both claim comfort in the outcome of Tuesday's off-year elections—balloting which provided answers but also posed new questions about the mood of the electorate one year before the contest for the White House.

Chief among the questions was the 1968 potency of the so-called white backlash vote, defeated—but by tiny margins—with the election of Negro mayors in Cleveland and in Gary, Ind.

Democratic National Chairman John M. Bailey said those victories for Negro Democrats, coupled with Boston's rejection of the controversial Louise Day Hicks, "put the so-called white backlash in its place."

That place did not appear an insignificant one—particularly with the approach of statewide elections in which big-city pluralities often are the decisive factor.

Another item for the political strategists: The potential impact next year of the war in Vietnam. San Francisco voters rejected a proposal urging a cease-fire and U.S. withdrawal and President Johnson's Democratic supporters called it evidence of growing support for his policy.

Republicans, on the other hand, raised the war issue in Kentucky and New Jersey and scored big victories.

Republican Sens. Thurston B. Morton and John Sherman Cooper said opposition to Johnson's stand contributed to the election of Louie B. Nunn as Kentucky's first GOP governor in two decades. New Jersey Republicans, who won control of the state legislature, said the same thing.

Negro Democrat Carl B. Stokes was elected mayor of Cleveland with 129,829 votes to 127,328 for his white, Republican opponent, Seth C. Taft.

Cleveland's voter registration is Democratic by a 10 to 1 margin. Stokes got virtually all the Cleveland Negro vote and about 20 per cent of the white ballots.

Ray C. Bliss, Republican national chairman, boasted of sharp reductions in Democratic majorities in some big cities, noting that the last GOP nominee in Cleveland got only 17 per cent of the vote. But that party-line analysis ignored the racial factor.

Stokes could become a featured Democratic performer, particularly in Negro areas, during the 1968 election campaign. And Cleveland could be crucial in determining which party wins Ohio's electoral votes.

In Gary, Negro Richard G. Hatcher won by 1,389 votes, but his Republican rival, Joseph Radigan, challenged the victory with charges of voting irregularities.

Kevin H. White, Massachusetts secretary of state, was elected mayor of Boston by 102,551 votes to 90,122 for Mrs. Hicks in another close contest marked by racial dispute.

Mrs. Hicks stirred controversy with her total opposition to the transportation of Negro children to white neighborhood schools for the sake of racial balance. White carried predominantly Negro neighborhoods by a margin of about 3 to 1.

Scanning the outcome, in which a Negro was elected to the Virginia Legislature and another won in Mississippi, Whitney M. Young Jr., director of the National Urban League, said: "While the backlash is there, it is not as powerful as

O.K. Measure For Benefit Increases

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Finance Committee approved today, by a straight party-line vote of 11 to 6, a bill to increase Social Security benefits by 15 per cent.

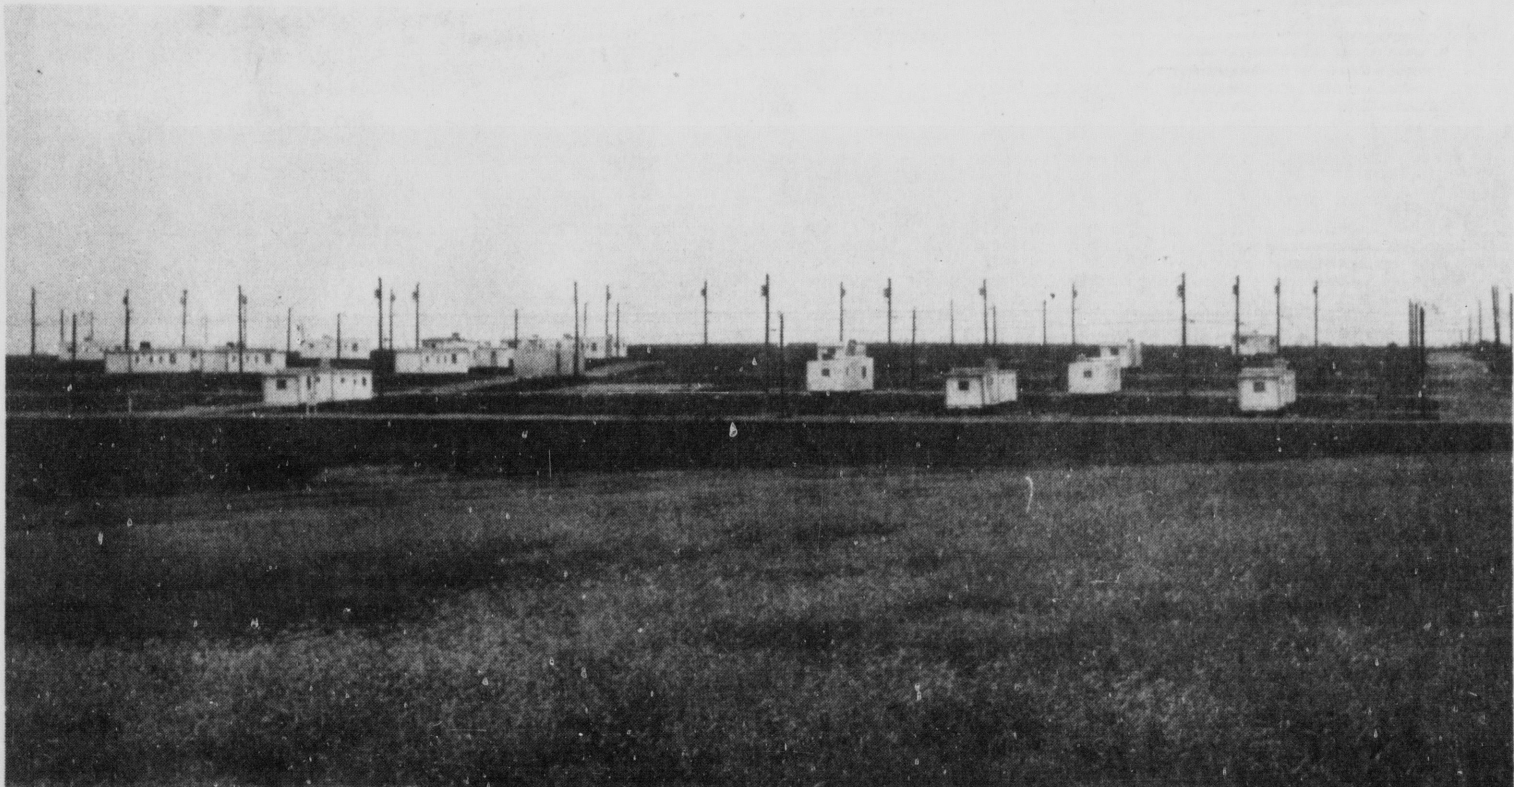

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., the chairman, said it would increase cash benefits paid out under the Social Security program by $3.6 billion next year.

For 1968, the payroll tax rate of 4.4 per cent on employee and employer would remain unchanged, but the taxable wage base would be raised from $6,600 to $8,000 effective Jan. 1.

The higher benefit payments would be effective next March and would be reflected in checks sent out April 1.

The committee's Democrats voted solidly for the bill and the Republicans against it.

Sen. John J. Williams of Delaware, the senior GOP member, said they felt the measure was irresponsibly financed.

Letters to Soldiers Make Woman Legend

By JUDY PRUSNEK
Associated Press Writer
CENTRAL CITY, Ky. (AP)—Four wars ago, "Mrs. H." had an idea how to make combat more bearable to the servicemen of Muhlenberg County. She'd write to them. All of them.

It was 1917 and Mrs. Agnes Harralson was a young postmistress in a small western Kentucky coal town named Graham, knowing too well who went letterless "over there."

Fifty years later, the 71-year-old Mrs. H.'s unflagging correspondence is legendary among generations of soldiers in her county.

What's now a full-page, unpaid column—"The Service Star"—in The Central City Times-Argus began with an air-mailed round-robin letter to World War I and an answer: "Miss A. I'd like to see the old Kaiser sweeping the streets of one of these little French towns and after every step, someone prodding him with a sharp bayonet. I can't think of any punishment horrible enough for the old bird." R. W. Walker, Tours, France, 1917.

World War II found her, a Sunday school teacher then, mimeographing the first Star which 500 servicemen from the county were to receive once a month.

Dinner Returns Well For GOP

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — The Republican State Committee met Wednesday to hear the good news the party earned a net of $146,068 on regional campaign dinners last September.

Dorman L. Steelman of Salem, state chairman, said the proceeds were distributed to the county committees where the dinners were held, to the national committee and to the state committee. The simultaneous $100 a plate dinners were held in St. Louis, Kansas City and Springfield.

The county committees got $58,427, the national committee $14,606 and the state committee $73,034, Steelman said.

Poverty Program Warning

WASHINGTON (AP) — Civil rights leaders say Congress will be inviting a national disaster if it does not continue the antipoverty program with adequate funding.

The warning came as the House began consideration Wednesday of amendments to a bill that would authorize the Office of Economic Opportunity to carry on the program for two more years.

A group of religious leaders also endorsed the bill, calling for its passage on moral grounds.

With many members planning an early departure from the Capitol to attend Veterans Day ceremonies, no key votes are expected before next week.

A joint statement by the civil rights leaders said Congress made a commitment to help the poor when it passed the Economic Opportunity Act in 1964.

"We give solemn warning now that to break the national promise of three years ago would be to invite national disaster," they said.

Among those signing the statement were A. Philip Randolph, Whitney Young Jr., Roy Wilkins and Clarence Mitchell, heads of individual organizations who have banded together in the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights.

The Interreligious Committee Against Poverty said in a statement that "strong, well-funded antipoverty legislation which assures maximum initiative of and self-determination by the poor, especially at the neighborhood level, will be the best insurance for the realization of justice for all persons in our society."

As debate continued on the bill Wednesday it drew support from two members who have opposed antipoverty legislation in the past, Reps. Joe D. Waggoner, D-La., and Frances P. Bolton, R-Ohio.

Children Witnesses To Tragedy

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Three of Joel V. Turnbow's 14 children saw him kill their mother and then end his own life with a shot in the head Wednesday.

It was the grim climax of one of many quarrels between the unemployed trucker, 45, and his ex-wife Marie, 42, who had divorced him March 3.

Nine of their children still lived with the mother, and her death raised a question of where they will find a home. Before the day was over, however, there was talk of keeping them together.

Nita Turnbow, 20, and two sisters still too young for school—Tina, 5, and Cindy, 4—were among the shocked witnesses to the shootings.

They saw Mrs. Turnbow run outside the East Fort Worth home during an argument which developed an hour after the trucker arrived in the forenoon.

Turnbow caught his former wife in a neighbor's yard, threw her to the ground and shot her three times with a .22-caliber pistol, Nita told Detective W.T. Eary. Then Turnbow fired a bullet into his brain.

A medical examiner entered a verdict of murder and suicide.

Nita said her mother tried to telephone for police but was unable to make the call because the lines had been cut.

"He always told mother, 'I'll kill you and myself if you get a divorce,'" related Dora Morgan, one of the couple's older daughters.

Mrs. Morgan said a family council will be held as soon as all can get together and they will decide what to do about her younger brothers and sisters.

Besides Nina, Tina and Cindy, those still living at home are Linda, 16; Robert, 14; Theresa, 12; Gary, 11; Valery, 8, and Mike, 6.

Parties

the demagogues would have us believe.

There were other Negro victories—six for Mississippi county offices, one to the Boston City Council, others to local posts scattered from New England to the South.

James Farmer, former chairman of the Congress of Racial Equality, said the elections proved Negro voters are growing in sophistication and independence, developing "a swing vote which can just as well go independent as support either party."

The shape of the backlash vote will take on additional import in 1968 if, as expected, Alabama's former Gov. George C. Wallace, a segregationist, mounts his third-party campaign for the presidency.

Furthermore, the significance of city pluralities in a statewide race is far different from that in a local election. Democrats often count on an outpouring of city support to balance Republican ballots in outlying and rural areas.

Bliss underscored that point in noting that Philadelphia's Democratic Mayor James H. J. Tate was re-elected by some 11,000 votes, compared with a 65,000-vote Democratic plurality in the last city hall race there.

However, the patronage and power Tate will hold through his re-election over Republican Dist. Atty. Arlen Specter could also be a key factor in a close statewide contest next year.

Democrats held the Mississippi State House with the landslide election of Rep. John Bell Williams as governor. But Williams has been at odds with his national party for years and could tend toward support of Wallace in 1968.

Nunn's victory in Kentucky gives the GOP command of 26 governorships, their first majority in that department since 1954. They are now in charge of states with 304 electoral votes, 34 more than it takes to name a president.

Nunn had campaigned against President Johnson's policy in Vietnam, and he said his victory was not going unnoticed at the White House.

President Johnson had no comment on any of the election returns.

Vultures Like Life In Miami

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Miami's 20th century vultures — something like the swallows of Capistrano but more like the messy starlings of northern city halls — are back in town, once more forsaking the wilderness of the Everglades for gracious urban living.

Again they're soaring over bustling, neon-lit downtown Miami as though it were a game preserve.

The city-slicker vultures — with wing spreads up to six feet — decided 10 or 12 years ago that the Dade County courthouse, despite crowded conditions and the noise that goes with urban apartments, would make a good home.

Their less enlightened country cousins continued the tired, old migration to the Everglades. "It's unique. I don't know of any other city where vultures roost on a building," said Dr. Oscar Owre, ornithologist at the University of Miami. "They usually don't favor civilization."

And the courthouse, one of the tallest buildings in downtown Miami, is the only building favored by the vultures, kin to the soaring condors of Peru and California.

Some are year-round tenants on top of the 28-story building, but conditions aren't really crowded until the snow flies in the north. Sometimes more than 50 are visible on top of the building.

"They're like the tourists," said J. Norman Peters, building superintendent, "some are here all year but the big flock comes to Florida in the winter."

Politicians have corny jokes to explain why the vultures chose the courthouse and the biologists have theories. But nobody knows for sure.

Frank Henderson reported to police that a car hit a porch post at 422 East Third sometime Tuesday night then left the scene.

Police Reports

Rev. James Kalthoff, 1814 West 11th, reported to police Wednesday that he found several articles of women's clothing and three purses behind the Lutheran Church, West Highway 50.

Sgt. Franklin and Sgt. Raines of the Sedalia Police Department picked the articles up and returned them to the stores from which they were taken. The articles, valued at $67.90, had been taken from Tempo, J. C. Penney's and Flower's Department Stores.

Lawrence McMullen, 518 East Fourth, reported to Sedalia Police Wednesday night that his car battery was stolen while his car was parked in front of 2222 West Second. McMullen told police that the thief replaced the stolen battery with another battery that didn't fit the casing.

Mrs. Larry Randall, 1020 West Third, reported to Sedalia Police Wednesday that someone threw a bottle at her car while it was parked at her home. The roof of the car was damaged.

John Hill, 503 West Clay, reported to police that two transistor radios, one carton of cigarettes, two dresses, one pair of boots, two quarts of milk and a wrist watch, valued at $95.55, were taken from the above address. Entrance to the house was gained by breaking in the back door.

A juvenile was apprehended by authorities Wednesday after he took a box of rifle shells from the Western Auto store. Ken Barr reported the incident to police after witnessing the theft. The juvenile was turned over to the juvenile officer.

Troopers Charles Pieper and Gary Price of the Missouri Highway Patrol recovered a stolen car and took into custody two suspects at 12:30 a.m. Thursday at West Highway 50 and Route D.

The car which belongs to Opal Lewis, Waynesville, was stolen from Waynesville Wednesday.

The two taken into custody and charged Thursday with auto theft by the Pulaski County prosecuting attorney were Sharon Anderson, 18, Waynesville, and her husband, Dana Anderson, 26, also of Waynesville.

Twelve persons entered pleas of guilty to charges of violating Missouri speed regulations and were charged $25 plus costs, each, in Magistrate Court.

The court named Larry Dean Summers, Clinton; Arthur I. Gibbs, St. Louis; James Elton Adams, New Bloomfield; Lennie Ray Jackson, New Franklin; Irene Fern Trelee, Higginsville; William Joseph Houser, Kansas City; Richard Charles Brams, Shawnee Mission, Kan.; David Edgar Hutchison, Blackwater; Geraldine C. Jackson, Kansas City; Jerry Wayne Johnson, Whiteman AFB; Deloris Duffer, Knob Noster; Edwin B. Livingston, Kansas City.

Otis Woody, Jr., Whiteman AFB, careless and imprudent driving, pleaded guilty and was fined $25 plus costs.

'Breathalyser' Test Hurts British Pubs

By GRANVILLE WATTS
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP) — Britain's new don't-drive-after-drinking law, one month old, is changing things.

Trade has slumped by more than 20 per cent at Vincent Parsons' pub The Swan, in the London suburb of West Drayton.

"It's splitting up old friendships, it's going to leave a gap in people's lives," Parsons says.

"A good pub is like a safety valve. You can let off steam about your job or the state of the nation or your wife. But who is going to stand around drinking tomato juice all night?"

Parsons is one of thousands of disgruntled British publicans complaining about the new law, which authorizes police to carry out random roadside checks with a breath-test instrument called a breathalyser.

The worst-hit pubs are those in country areas which depend largely on motorists.

Faced with dwindling bar sales, some of the tavern owners have even threatened to organize a nationwide pub strike and a protest march on government offices.

First police figures, however, show that the breathalyser law is working. In one area of Yorkshire accidents have dropped nearly 40 per cent. But it is likely to be early next year before an official judgment is passed on the breathalyser method.

Motorists' organizations are expressing concern at the number of drivers who are being tested and found fit to drive. They feel the police should only stop motorists who are obviously suspicious.

In the spot checks drivers are asked to breathe into a tube. If chemically treated crystals turn green beyond a certain mark the driver is taken to a police station and subjected to blood or urine tests.

Anyone found with more than 80 milligrams of alcohol in 100 millilitres of his blood faces a $280 fine, four months' imprisonment or both.

Just where the danger mark lies is any drinker's guess.

One hefty publican downed 12 quick vodkas and still passed the test. A thinner and less experienced drinker failed the test after two pints of beer.

The law has hit hotels and restaurants as well as pubs.

Hotels throughout Britain have reported scores of canceled functions for fear of that late drive home.

Trade drops are marginal in pubs in the center of London and other cities. Breweries hope increased drinking at home will cut down losses.

But in the country pubs, the impact has been hard.

"That's right there'll be no party this Christmas?" asked a husky beer drinker in The Swan.

"Afraid so," said the barman.

Suggestions On Exhaust Suppression

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — The Missouri Air Conservation Commission received tentative suggestions Wednesday for helping control air pollution by motor vehicles.

It was recommended that when the state begins annual inspection of automobiles and trucks in 1969 the inspectors also make certain each vehicle has an idling speed recommended by the manufacturer, the timing is correctly set and all spark plugs are firing.

The commission has set a deadline of next April 22 for its procedures assuring a minimum pollution by motor vehicles. The federal government will have overall control of motor vehicle pollution controls.

than two levels above his present positions.

—There is no combination of degrees more helpful to a rising executive than a bachelor degree in engineering or science and a master degree in business administration.

—The faster learners—the successful executives—often succeed in spite of their mistakes.

"It isn't mistakes but what is learned from them," Jennings said. "The mouse being tested in the laboratory maze learns from the electric shock as well as from the cheese," he said.

Many Geese Are Bagged

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Canada goose shooting in the Swan Lake zone will end at sundown Sunday, Nov. 12, the state Conservation Department announced Wednesday.

By then the hunters will have killed at least 25,000 Canada geese in the area, the quota set earlier by the Federal Fish and Wildlife Service.

Through last Monday, the Conservation Department reported, more than 20,000 geese had been killed in the zone. It is bounded on the north by U. S. 36, on the west by U.S. 65, on the south by M240 and on the east by M5. Ducks and blue and snow geese will still be legal game in the zone after Sunday's closing on Canadas.

'Visiposure' as Key To Executive Success

By JOHN CUNIFF

AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Visiposure, it has been learned by computer, is one of the surest routes to corporate success, a clearly marked route up the corporate mountain.

The word is a combination of visibility and exposure, with visibility being the ability of the aspirant to see the top of the corporate Olympus, and exposure the position of being seen by the men above.

While others labor on the cliffs and crags of the rocky climb upward, those with visiposure mount the corporate mountain steadily, stopping on plateaus to study and learn for a couple of years—seldom more than five.

The word was coined by Dr. Eugene E. Jennings of Michigan State University, who studied by electronic computer the routes used by successful executives in some of the nation's largest and fastest growing firms.

He found that the ability of the upcoming executive to see and copy those who can influence his career, and to keep himself in view of those who might promote him, are all important.

In Jennings' view, the manager of the Nome, Alaska branch is likely to advance far more slowly than the department manager based in New York headquarters. The Nome man may be the better of the two, but he lacks visiposure.

This is just one of the findings that permitted Jennings to pick nine of 11 presidents chosen by top corporations last year from 208 candidates.

As early as midcareer, he believes, accurate forecasts can be made of which individuals will be the top officers. "All corporations," he said in an interview, "have but a few fast routes to the top."

Much of corporate success, he continued, "is being in the right route."

After intensively studying corporations for 16 years, Jennings has developed the study of mobility, which he says defines the routes and channels to the top of almost all large, established, bureaucratic organizations.

His mobility report was published by the University of Michigan under the title: "The Mobile Manager: A Study of the New Generation of Top Executives."

A few findings:
—In the past 20 years the fastest movers were the fastest learners, those with the most reliable intuitions and quickest responses. This enabled them to quickly learn successively more responsible jobs. The equally intelligent and perhaps more thorough man tended to become a shelf-sitter.

—Any manager who sits on a shelf for five years or longer will probably not advance more

Long-Life Controversy

A pun may be the poorest form of wit, but we can't help having a fling at one by suggesting that the stories of the current controversy involving the junior Senator from Missouri be captioned, "Long-Life."

Because that's what seems to be developing from the national magazine's insistence that Senator Edward V. Long was given a whitewash by the Senate ethics committee investigation. It concluded that payments to Senator Long by Morris Shenker, St. Louis attorney, had no relationship whatsoever to Mr. Hoffa or the Teamsters' Union.

Senator Long's accuser, Wm. Lambert, author of the articles, will expand his previous interviews with representatives of the committee by appearing soon before the committee in person on invitation of Senator John C. Stennis, chairman.

By present indications the Long-Life controversy will become a serialization extending into 1968 when portions of it will become campaign material for those who do not believe in capital punishment but, who do approve of the block and ax for Senator Long.

This morning a reader called to ask whether, in view of the revival of Life's crusade, we would write any more editorials on the subject. We informed her that indeed we would from now until next August, primary election month.

In the meantime who can predict what changes in the political picture may occur before the April deadline for candidates to file for Senator?

At the moment let it be understood we are not now beating the drums for either Senator Long's re-election or the election of his rival, Lt. Gov. Thomas F. Eagleton. There is ample time for everyone to evaluate the candidates' suitability for this important office.

Resumption of the Ethics committee hearings may ultimately reveal in other areas of the controversy — not related to Mr. Hoffa — that Senator Long is a vulnerable political target. In the interim, this suggests a moratorium on the mud-slinging.

You don't hear Mr. Eagleton prematurely lambasting Senator Long before the smoke clears away from the Washington ethics scene. But he has a telescopic bead on the situation back there, and an ear cocked to register any rumblings from additional testimony that may be considered potential political ammunition — in the ethical sense, that is.

"Sic 'em Tiger!" is being voiced from the sidelines.

Or haven't you heard!

Regan's 'Denial' Charges Backfire

JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON—Four times in a 20-minute press conference, Gov. Ronald Reagan last week called Drew Pearson a liar. It was one of the veteran actor's most persuasive performances; his voice expressed a controlled outrage, and his schooled features alternated between pained earnestness and seething indignation as he stood in the familiar spotlight before the grinding cameras. Once he pounded the table angrily for effect.

The point of Reagan's performance was that Pearson had lied about the dismissal of two sex deviates from the Sacramento staff. Reagan described the Pearson column as "scurrilous" and "ridiculous." When reporters pressed for the truth about his investigation of homosexuals in his official family, the governor snapped: "I just don't know what you are talking about, really."

Facts have now filtered out, flatly disputing Reagan. Such respected newspapers as the New York Times and Boston Globe, after careful investigation, have concluded that Pearson was right and Reagan wrong. Charged theGlobe in this instance: "To put it as politely as possible for the readers of a family newspaper, Ronald Reagan is not to be believed."

Our able rivals, columnists Rowland Evans and Robert Novak, also declared that Reagan was "telling considerably less than the truth." They quoted a prominent California Republican, following Reagan's press conference performance, as snorting: "Mr. Integrity just went down the drain."

—WIDE CREDIBILITY GAP—

As a preselection prospect who has complained about the credibility gap in Washington, Reagan must stand scrutiny as to his own credibility. There is something about his wholesome face and boyish good looks that inspires trust.

Hearst's veteran political reporter, Marianne Means, was told by Mississippi's Gov. Paul Johnson earlier this year that he had advised Reagan in a private conversation not to run for the Presidential nomination in the South. Reagan at a luncheon or United Press International editors not only called the story a "lie" but declared scornfully: "Furthermore, I have never met Governor Johnson. She must have been talking to the hippies at Haight-Ashbury."

The enterprising Miss Means promptly produced a picture of Reagan and Johnson huddled together at a governors' affair.

Syd Kossen, political writer for the San Francisco Examiner, told this column that he had heard Reagan tell a Lumbermen's convention at San Francisco's St. Francis Hotel: "If you have seen one redwood, you have seen them all." Other reporters were also present, said Kossen.

This irreverence toward California's stately redwoods backfired. Reagan not only denied he had made the statement that the reporters had heard with their own ears, but he took the trouble of playing a tape of his speech for the reporters. The tape, which omitted the controversial statement, obviously had been altered.

Trained reporters, however, seldom make mistakes. Reagan had made the statement.

New York columnist and TV impresario Ed Sullivan, writing in the Ladies' Home Journal, has also told of mailing a registered letter to Reagan which he blandly denied receiving. Later, Sullivan was startled to read in Hedda Hopper's column: "Ronald Reagan and I had a great laugh at that letter from that New York columnist."

Reagan repeated his denial in a letter to Sullivan, dated July 8, 1966. As for the Hedda Hopper item, he said: "I have just never been a reader of the Hollywood columns."

Sullivan could swallow Reagan's story of the unrecieved letter, but he added with disbelief: "This statement that a Hollywood actor never read the Hollywood columns is incredible."

—PRESS SPOKESMAN'S LIE—

Reagan's wholesome face and persuasive manner apparently have been concealing a character that is less than trustworthy. He not only lied about the homosexuals on his staff, but he made a liar out of his press secretary, Lyn Nofziger. When asked whether Nofziger had discussed the homosexual case with reporters on the governor's conference cruise, Reagan snapped: "I am prepared to say that nothing like that ever happened."

Then he turned to his press secretary and asked: "Want to confirm it, Lyn?"

"Confirmed," said Nofziger grimly.

The New York Times has now published the names of six reporters who heard Nofziger discuss the homosexual case: Paul Hope of the Washington Star, David Broder of the Washington Post, Jack McDowell of the San Francisco Examiner and Bill Ames of the Columbia Broadcasting System.

The same Nofziger, in an attempt to discredit Marianne Means' story, disconcertingly called it untrue and demanded that she be fired. Reagan also indicated in his Sacramento press conference that he had an agreement with California publishers to suppress the story.

The question now buzzing in political circles is—why? It would have been far less damaging for him to admit the facts and point out that he had fired the homosexuals. Why did he try to cover up? The question will be asked by the politicians for many months to come.

A Bishop's Protest

The Cathedral of St. John the Divine in Morningside Heights, New York, may never be finished. Rt. Rev. Horace W. B. Duneagan, Bishop of the largest Episcopal cathedral in the world announced: "There will be no fund raising for its completion as long as I am bishop of New York, until there is greater evidence that the despair and anguish of our disadvantaged people has been relieved." From these Heights of the cathedral, "we look with concern upon the plight of the deprived people who live within a few blocks of us."

The bishop said the unfinished cathedral is a symbol of our "rough hewn, ragged, broken and incomplete" society. "The crisis in America has become more critical, more urgent. Riots and violence have rent cities all over the country. A terrifying struggle for power has been initiated."

The bishop's motive for halting fund-raising as a protest against present day conditions is honorable and it may be the right approach. But stopping the building program which has been in progress since 1892, will undoubtedly add to the unemployment problem in New York. Fund-raising and employment of some of the anguished people might be an alternative to help finish the cathedral. Many types of labor are necessary for such a structure, and in nearby Harlem there must be men who could qualify in the building trades. It would be more productive to give these people a chance to work for the glory of God than to be looked down upon from the Heights in their anguish and deprivation. The sympathetic bishop does not say that his parishioners will relieve the disadvantaged. He protests that until the conditions of the poor are improved, the towering edifice of St. John the Divine will stand unfinished amidst the scaffolding, as a testament of revolt. The bishop is a man of great influence, and his edict may bring the desired result. It takes a long time to build a cathedral. A few years interruption may not matter in a program that has been going on for 75 years.

Reds Backhandedly Admit U.S. Policies Gain in Asia

By LEON DENNEN
NEA Foreign News Analyst

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (NEA)

Sen. J. W. Fulbright and other severe critics of the Johnson administration, in and out of Congress, are convinced that U.S. policy in Vietnam is a failure.

But the Soviet leaders, incredible as it may seem, now concede that firm resistance to aggression has already resulted in substantial diplomatic and political gains for the United States in Southeast Asia.

This is actually what an authoritative Russian commentator said recently in a long survey of the situation in Southeast Asia printed in Moscow's newspaper Izvestia.

Vikenty Matveyev is more than a commentator. He is regarded by specialists on communism as a member of a small group of Soviet spokesmen who frequently "leak" to the outside world the opinions of the Kremlin's top leaders.

To be sure, there were brickbats in Matveyev's bouquet. What he was really trying to prove was that the anti-Russian policies of Red China provided an opportunity for the United States to improve its positions in Asia.

He attributed the American diplomatic and political gains to Mao Tse-tung's rejection of joint action by the Communist nations in Vietnam.

Said Matveyev: "The American build-up began only when the group of Mao Tse-tung announced for all to hear that it flatly rejected the proposals of the Soviet and other Communist parties for unity of action in the struggle against American aggression."

More significant, in Moscow's view, is the emergence in Asia of a group of nations linked to the U.S. more closely than ever before. In addition to Indonesia, the pro-American group includes the Philippines, Thailand, Malaysia, South Korea, Laos, South Vietnam, Australia and New Zealand.

If the critics of the Johnson administration could stop long enough to take a fresh look at the real situation in Southeast Asia they would realize that this is actually what the President and Secretary of State Dean Rusk have been trying to explain to the American people.

In the case of Vietnam, at least, the so-called credibility gap is largely a figment of Fulbright's imagination. In the view of specialists on communism, the Russian assessment will eventually force North Vietnam and the Viet Cong to agree to peace negotiations.

Moscow, as the self-styled leader of world communism, must continue to supply Hanoi with arms, however reluctantly. But it understands better than some U.S. senators and professors that war protesters and draft-card burners will have little effect on Johnson's policies. Nor will they curb the urge for freedom by the people of Southeast Asia.

In fact, there is increasing evidence that Moscow no longer believes that the Communists can win the war in Vietnam.

Complete Abstinence Best for 'Alcoholic'

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

(Second of Three Related Articles.)

Q—My niece drinks a lot. Is there any drug that is safe that she could take to stop drinking?

A—Disulfiram can be given for this purpose but only under medical supervision. It is dangerous to give it without the full knowledge and consent of the patient.

Q—My father - in - law, 79, drinks a half-gallon of wine a day. He appears to be in good health. Will the wine hurt his liver? If so, how can we get him to cut down his wine intake or give it up?

A—Wine is a great comfort to some elderly persons and, although in time it will damage the liver, this is a chance many are willing to take when they feel that their productive life is behind them. The only way to get anyone to cut his intake of alcohol is for the person himself to be convinced that it is detrimental to his health or family relationships and to want very much to stop drinking.

Q—Two years ago my husband was told that he has cirrhosis of the liver. Since then he has given up drinking except for an occasional social drink every week or two. Would this amount harm him?

A—Since alcohol poisons the liver, anyone with liver disease should abstain completely. On the other hand the liver has great regenerative powers and in two years may have recovered much of its function. Your husband should have liver function tests made to determine the present status of his liver. If the tests show the slightest loss of function, he should meet his social obligations by drinking a bloody Mary without the vodka, a bitter lemon without the gin or a concoction without the whisky.

Q—What effect will three or four shots of liquor (and sometimes much more) have on a man? Will it affect his co-ordination?

A—Allowing at least an hour between each drink, it will have very little immediate effect but over a period of 15 or 20 years it may cause cirrhosis of the liver. Taken at a faster rate it will cause intoxication with impairment of judgment and muscular co-ordination.

Q—What are the symptoms of alcoholic arthritis?

A—The symptoms of any arthritis are pain and swelling in the joints but I can find no evidence that any of the many kinds of arthritis are caused by alcohol.

One advantage of Landy and similar conventions is that few people have learned how to defend against it. Actually the defense is simple if you and your partner have worked it out.

The Landy two club bid asks for major suits. If you, as partner of the no-trump bidder, double two clubs you simply say that you have a good hand, and are interested in going on to game or in doubling your opponents when they get into their major suit. A bid of two or three diamonds or three clubs is competitive and nonforcing, while a bid of two no-trump is a very mild invitation to go on to game. A bid of two hearts or spades shows a poor hand but a good suit and no defense against the other major suit, while a bid of three hearts or three spades is a strong invitation to game in that suit and is bid in spite of the fact that you know your opponent is likely to hold five trumps against you.

You may also ignore the two club call completely as Jeff Glick of Miami did some years ago when Alvin Landy was making one of his few appearances at the table. Jeff and Alvin were one of our great partnerships once upon a time, and Alvin handled the three n o - t r u m p contract superbly.

He won the heart opening, led a diamond to dummy's king and finished against East's queen. He did this because he knew that West was long in the majors. Then he cashed his ace of diamonds, entered dummy with the ace of clubs; ran the rest of the diamonds, came back to his hand with the king of clubs, laid down the ace of hearts for his 10th trick and threw West in with a heart.

West had been forced to hang on to the ace and queen of spades and had to give Alvin one more overtrick.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

From mid-1949 through June, 1966, the United States sold $16.1 billion in arms and gave away $30.2 billion, reports The World Almanac. The $46.3-billion total, which does not include private sales, is about $4 billion more than all the grants and loans under the economic assistance program since mid-1948, including the Marshall Plan.

Monsoon Season For Politicians

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Winter is the American monsoon. In Vietnam the rainy monsoon season slows the fighting. In America winter keeps politicians indoors and demonstrators off the streets. The 1968 candidates and the issues themselves won't start to heat up until the warm weather is back. Even that may not be late enough for the issues. They may not become clearly fixed until late summer or the November elections.

This is why the uncertainties about what lies ahead make next year's campaigns and elections unusually fascinating because, if there is anything which now can be called the American mood, it can undergo startling changes.

Thus it makes little sense to begin predictions now—based on last Tuesday's elections—about the issues, the candidates, and their chances in the 1968 presidential and congressional elections.

On Tuesday, Negroes were elected mayors of Cleveland and Gary, Ind., and the Republicans made some scattered gains. That's hardly enough for prophecies about next year.

This country has had a long history of prejudices—against the Irish, Catholics, Jews and Negroes—most of which have greatly diminished or disappeared except for anti-Negro feelings.

There, as the elections in Cleveland and Gary showed, the prejudice is only beginning to diminish. But it hasn't diminished so much it can't surge back in full force if racial troubles, particularly violence against whites, get under way on a large scale.

For example: The big Negro riots of the past few years have occurred in warm weather. Almost certainly there will be more next year. They still have not been analyzed enough to understand them or remedied enough to prevent them.

So far they have not been aimed directly at whites. Negroes have concentrated their riots against conditions and property in their own areas. If next year they turn against whites, the elections will be affected.

Politically important in 1968, if the riots occur again, will be what President Johnson and the Democrats and Republicans in Congress have done in the meantime to prevent them or control them.

Equally important, perhaps far more so, will be the condition of the Vietnam war before the elections. The present heavy decline in Johnson's popularity, as the polls show, can be linked to the war's stalemated condition.

If by electioneering time next fall there is still no progress in Vietnam, which will mean more thousands of Americans killed there by then, Republicans will use it as ammunition against Johnson, with increased public support for them. There is the opposite possibility. Master politician Johnson has certainly thought of all the angles.

An American victory in the war by balloting time, or even a halt to the fighting, would be the best thing that could happen to Johnson who then will get much of the thanks as now he gets much of the blame.

Another factor to consider before election time is the state of the economy. For instance: Unemployment went up in September and October, reaching its highest point in two years last month.

If that continues next year it will be a minor or major disaster for Johnson and his Democrats, depending on the size of the rise in unemployment. And bad inflation, if it comes, will be an election factor, too.

Yet, the answers to none of these problems, which may be the deciding points in the 1968 elections, are visible now.

Q — My boss says that since I didn't file a new withholding certificate by May 1, I have to wait until January 1 to do it. Is that right?

A — No. Many employers will let an employee change his withholding certificate at any time. Under the law, however, the employer is only required to make payroll changes four times a year, on January 1, May 1, July 1, or October 1, for changes filed at least 30 days previously.

Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: Recently you told a wife who wondered if her husband was cheating in Vietnam not to ask him any questions when he returned. You also said, "If he volunteers the information, listen quietly, say nothing, forgive him and never bring up the subject again."

Is this sauce only for the goose, or does it also apply to the gander?

My brother has been in Vietnam for eight months. I have no proof but I could almost swear that his wife has entertained a former sweetheart in her apartment. It burns me up that she has always gotten away with the goody-goody act. Everyone in the family thinks she is a saint. I have a theory that people who go out of their way to be especially nice are hiding something.

I also have a theory that it is best to bring things out in the open and clear the air. When my brother comes home I plan to tell him of my suspicions and if his wife is innocent let her prove it. I studied commercial law in high school and this is the basis for American justice. Right? — NOT BLIND

Dear Not: You must have flunked the course, Needle-nose, because you've got it wrong. American justice is based on the concept that a person is innocent until proven guilty.

"Clear the air," my Aunt Minnie! You sound like a four-door, brass-plated trouble-maker and I hope your brother tells you to M.Y.O.B. the minute you open your mouth.

Dear Ann Landers: I was widowed at 48. Two sons. One married the following year. The other married six months later. I gave them each $1,000 as a wedding gift.

Three months later the younger son asked if he could borrow $300. I said yes. He never paid it back so I gave his brother $300 also, because I wanted to be fair. Then the older boy asked if I would help him buy a house. I signed for his loan. He and his wife moved out of town six months later and I had to make good on the payments.

The following year they decided to move back to town. I gave them $5,000 to get started. I gave the other son $5,000, too, because I wanted to be fair.

Neither of these boys or their wives have the time of day for me unless they want to talk about borrowing money. They never ask me to their homes for a meal or invite me any place. I am nearly 70 and have little money left. I am so depressed about the way my sons treat me that I don't know what to do. Any advice? — USED

Dear Used: One thing you can do is stop being a money machine. I hope your letter will wake up other mothers who think gifts to children necessarily beget love and respect.

Confidential to Trouble in The Movies: Tell him to keep his hands in the popcorn or find himself another girl.

If you have trouble getting along with your parents ... if you can't get them to let you live your own life, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Bugged By Parents? How to Get More Freedom." Send 50 cents in coin with your request and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

CANADIAN WHISKY — A BLEND • 80 PROOF • IMPORTED BY NATIONAL DISTILLERS PRODUCTS CO., NEW YORK

Elegant tradition:
The smoothest whisky ever to come out of Canada!

Tonight serve Windsor Canadian: the remarkable, sippin'-smooth Canadian that's already changing thousands of Americans' ideas on the whisky to serve.

Now compare Windsor! Pour two drinks — highballs or over ice — one with your usual, one with Windsor Canadian. Notice the superior smoothness and the flavor of Windsor.

That's because no other custom-distilled whisky shares these three extraordinary features:

1. Only Windsor Canadian is made from choicest northern prairie grains, bursting with fresh flavor.
2. Only Windsor Canadian is born of icy mountain glacial water drawn pure and clear from underground streams. 3. Only Windsor Canadian is aged in the incredibly dry air of Canada's Rockies. Where, nearly a mile high, it gentles to sippin'-smooth perfection.

Yet it costs no more than leading domestic whiskies, because we import Windsor Canadian, then bottle it here. Thus saving on duties and other charges. Compare the price and the smoothness of Windsor. Once you do, you'll never settle for less or pay more. That's tradition for you!

SUMMIT, N.Y. (AP) — Justice of the Peace Stephen P. Martin, 65, of this Mohawk Valley community, died Monday of an apparent heart attack on the eve of his re-election to another term.

Martin's name remained on Tuesday's ballot and, when the returns were in, the voters had elected him over Republican Howard Edwards by a vote of 210 to 135.

Martin, a Democrat, suffered the fatal attack while campaigning.

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Voters knocked an admitted Communist out of office Tuesday.

Donald Hamerquist, 28, a Democratic precinct committeeman on the city's Southeast Side, was recalled by a vote of 60-9.

The Multnomah County Democratic Central Committee began circulating recall petitions against Hamerquist after Hamerquist admitted he is a Communist.

Many people aren't as careful as they might be about eating sufficient protein each day. A study, made by food scientists at several agricultural experiment stations, shows that after 40 years of age the average woman consumes less than the "daily needed amount" of protein.

Women between 40 and 59 years had diets 9 percent below par in protein; women 60 to 69, 18 percent; and those 70 to 79 years old, about 12 percent short.

Although protein needs must be assessed along with other nutritional requirements, it might be well if older women took another look at their daily protein intake.

Foods important for protein include milk, cheese, eggs, meats, poultry, and fish. Others that can be counted on to give good amounts are dry beans, peas, lentils and nuts. Although cereals provide smaller quantities of protein in a usual serving, their contributions can help out in meeting daily protein needs.

Even though body growth is completed, older people still need protein for repair and upkeep of body tissues, say nutritionists at the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

CANNED MEAT INSPECTION
Processed meats are imported into the U.S. every year from approximately 30 countries.

Canned hams from Denmark, canned meatballs from Holland, dried sausage from Italy, canned corned beef from Argentina, bacon from Canada, beef jerky from Mexico, to mention only a few.

We have assurance that imported canned meats are as wholesome, as carefully prepared as U.S. meat products.

Because of Federal laws all imported meats are as wholesome a product as you would get from an American processor. All must meet standards equal to ours and must pass inspection once they reach this country.

In fact, before any nation can ship meat products to the U.S., its meat inspection system must be approved as comparable to the federal inspection in this country. Making sure of this is part of the job of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Consumer and Marketing Service.

Their veterinarians regularly check other governments' inspection systems and exporting plant to see that they meet the same standards applied to U.S. meat packers.

Before a shipment of meat leaves for the U.S., a representative of that country's meat inspection system signs an official certificate which identifies the shipment and provides other information necessary for efficient inspection at the U.S. port of entry.

At the U.S. port, federal inspectors recheck each shipment. The import meat inspector checks first the label — it too must meet federal approval — and checks the gross weight. He then empties the can, washes it out, and weighs the can and any other packaging material to check the tare weight. The inspector then checks the produce itself to determine if its characteristics match the label description.

Only after inspection has been completed and the meat deemed acceptable is a product allowed to enter the U.S. Meat which does not comply with U.S.D.A. meat inspection regulations, is refused entry.

Imported processed meat products are easily recognized in super-markets. Each can bears in a prominent place the name of the country from which it originates, such as a ham marked "Product of Denmark."

Imported canned meat may be eaten with the assurance that it is a fine and wholesome product.

APPLE BAKING TRICK

If you want apples to keep their shape during baking, here is some information that will help you. First, remove the core, but do not cut all the way through the apple. The bottom section when left intact, holds the flavorful juices in the apple where they belong. To keep shrinkage of peel to a minimum, remove about a half-inch section of peel around the top of the apple; then cut just through the peel all around the center of the fruit. Butter and brown sugar placed in the center of tart apples enhance their flavor. For a true roaster flavor, bake your apples in an open pan without added water. Bake 25 to 30 minutes to 400 degrees.

This is sufficient time for thorough baking of most apples.

SEASON FOR FRUIT CAKE
It's fruit cake season — time for making them is now — time for eating comes after they have "ripened" and mellowed.

Recipes vary but the mellowing process takes anywhere from three to eight weeks. Holiday fruit cakes baked now will be nicely aged by the time you are ready to serve them or wrap them as gifts.

How many? Decide on the number of fruit cakes you will need and make out a market list before shopping for ingredients.

Different sizes and shapes? Fruit cakes may be baked in different sized containers for variety. A six-ounce fruit juice can is ideal for a little loaf to be sliced into paper-thin rounds for holiday parties. A fruit cake baked in a one-pound coffee can may be put back in the can for safe traveling through the mail. Ring molds and various sized loaf pans turn out nicely shaped cakes for gifts.

Prepare the baking pans. Use greased brown paper to line sides and bottom of pans. The

More Equality in Ranks

President Johnson signed into law Wednesday a bill giving women in the armed forces equal opportunity with their male counterparts to compete for the rank of general or admiral. Among those receiving a pen following the White House East Room ceremony was Oveta Culp Hobby, left, the first director of the WACs. In the center is Col. Frances G. Ballentine of the Air Force. (UPI) paper may be extended about one inch to make a handle for easy lifting. The paper lining is very important (it provides necessary protection needed for the cake during the long baking period). When using a mold where lining with paper is impossible, grease well.

Baking. Some prefer to set a pan of hot water on the bottom of the oven during baking to give a less heavy crust. Fruit cakes are baked slowly for best results and in an oven 250 to 300 degrees. The length of baking time varies according to the consistency of the batter and according to the size and shapes of the baking pans. The more fruit and nuts in the cake, the heavier the texture; the heavier the texture, the longer the baking time. Fruit cakes do not rise much during baking. In general, a 9 by 5 by 3 pan needs about 2½ hours; a one-pound coffee can about 2 hours; an 8-inch ring mold about 1½ hours; and a juice can about 45 minutes.

To cool remove cake from the oven and place on a cooling rack until pan is cool enough to touch. Then lift cake from pan and cool completely. Cool cake thoroughly before wrapping for storage. Decorate or frost cake after aging.

Aging improves the flavor. When a cake is stored in an airtight container over a period of time, the moisture becomes evenly distributed and the fruit flavors permeate the entire cake. The more fruit and nuts in the cake, the longer the aging period required. The longer the aging, the better the flavor. For additional flavor, liquids may be used. These can be brushed on or a cloth soaked in liquid can be wrapped around the cake. This is repeated in a week or two.

Wrapping for aging. Airtight wrapping prevents cake from drying out. Heavy foil, plastic wrap, or airtight containers provide proper storage. Fruit cake can be frozen. Fruit cake will keep well for many weeks if properly stored. But if necessary, cakes may be frozen for longer keeping even if they are decorated and glazed. Freezing will not age fruit cake; it should be aged before freezing. Wrap carefully in moisture-proof freezer paper or heavy foil; then seal securely.

Kashmir Remains Hot Spot

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — A motley force of tribesmen and army irregulars moved out of the arid plains of Pakistan and into the beautiful vale of Kashmir on a fall day just 20 years ago.

The "Kashmir Liberators" met little opposition for a couple of days and soon were threatening Srinagar, the state capital situated in a valley surrounded by the lofty Himalayas.

At this point, the Maharaja of Kashmir requested Indian troops in an appeal to Lord Mountbatten, who had been viceroy of India until August of that year, when independence was granted to the now-partitioned subcontinent.

With that, the maharaja, who was a Hindu, boarded a plane and fled south from the predominantly Moslem valley to predominantly Hindu Jammu, the winter capital of Kashmir.

Fighting continued until the United Nations negotiated a cease-fire, effective Jan. 6, 1949. The cease-fire line left Pakistan in possession of about a third of Kashmir; India the remainder, including the vale of Kashmir.

That was the first round in a running dispute over custody of the 86,000-square-mile state.

It all started because of the imprecise manner in which the British partitioned the subcontinent and left unsettled the matter of accession of some predominantly Moslem states to Pakistan.

India has claimed ever since that the Hindu maharaja opted for accession to India.

Pakistan says he had no right to do so, and for 20 years has been demanding a plebiscite in Kashmir—something India once agreed to but now says cannot be done. India claims Kashmir's ownership by India is an established fact.

Vice President Hubert Humphrey kisses his wife as she greets him at nearby Andrews Air Force Base, Md., late Tuesday upon his return from a 10-day Southeast Asian trip. Humphrey said he was deeply encouraged by the "appreciation of the American effort" in Vietnam. (UPI)

Club Notes

Mrs. Bert Stevens was hostess to the Camp Branch Homemakers Extension Club Nov. 1.

Mrs. Leon Morgan, president, presided and several songs were sung by the group. Mrs. Buell Hoard gave the devotions, 95th Psalm and a poem, "Closer Look."

The program on family life was given by Mrs. Charles Hoard. Mrs. Leroy Ryan read an article from Country Women, "Over the Pole to Alaska."

A work day was planned for Nov. 16 at the home of Mrs. Buell Hoard.

The next meeting will be Dec. 6 with Mrs. Leroy Ryan following a luncheon at State Fair Cafe.

Green Ridge Rebekah Lodge met Nov. 6 at the Lodge Hall with Miss Nola Barrow presiding.

A Bible ceremony was presented before the lodge session. Participating were Mrs. George Upton, Mrs. Leon Morgan, Mrs. Lloyd Brown, Mrs. Albert Upton and Mrs. Otis McNew. They read scripture and a hymn was sung with Mrs. Floyd Egbert as accompanist.

District Deputy President, Dimple Sartin of Bertha Rebekah Lodge, Pleasant Hill, was introduced. Others from Pleasant Hill were Della Storms, Blanche Bowers, Missouri Bailey and Belle Neill.

Green Ridge Rebekah Lodge received an invitation from the Green Ridge Odd Fellow Lodge to attend their oyster supper Nov. 21. They were also invited to attend a District meeting at Orphans Home Rebekah Lodge, Warrensburg, Dec. 12.

Members of the Rebekah and Odd Fellow Lodges, Green Ridge, visited the I.O.O.F. Home, Liberty, recently.

New officers of Green Ridge Rebekah Lodge for 1968 will be installed Jan. 15 with Dimple Sartin and her group in charge.

THE NEWS in Brief

REHOBOTH, Mass. (AP) — When a town employee suggested that the town hall needed a doormat on which people could wipe their feet, officials asked various businesses how much such a mat could be rented for. Monday night, to their consternation and amusement, the selectmen received a letter from an unidentified laundry and dry cleaning firm. It offered a $1.50 monthly rental fee—accompanied by a form inquiring about the customer's credit rating.

It was the first time anyone had questioned the town's financial ability to pay a $1.50 monthly bill but the selectmen swallowed their discomfiture nobly and moved on to other business, taking no action on the doormat for the present.

FISHERS ISLAND, N.Y. (AP) — A dog named Champ drove his master's station wagon into the Fishers Island Coast Guard station Monday.

But he proved to be a bit of a chump as a driver, barely missing one flagpole, bashing into another and narrowly avoiding the water.

The two-year-old springer spaniel is owned by John Gada of Fishers Island, who left the dog in the car with the motor running while he waited for a ferry.

Somehow the dog engaged the automatic transmission and the car backed slowly into the station.

Titans Meet

Penn State Pick to Top Wolfpack; Trojans Will Retain No. 1 Rating

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE
Peerless Pigskin Prophet

Egad, friends, this is a week that is guaranteed to please even the zaniest football fan. In every section of our glorious land collegiate titans are set to have at each other! In the east, potent Penn State takes on undefeated (8-0) North Carolina State.

In the midwest the surprising Indiana lads (7-0) meet Michigan State and Minnesota entertains Purdue in important Big Ten engagements. A quartet of Southeastern Conference clashes are on tap in the south: Georgia-Florida, Alabama-L.S.U., Kentucky-Vanderbilt and Auburn-Miss. State.

The southwest features S.M.U. at Texas A&M, and Wichita State testing the rugged North Texas State (5-0-1) Eagles.

The far west, boasting three of the nation's dwindling list of unbeaten teams, has Southern California (8-0) meeting dangerous Oregon State, UCLA (6-0-1) visiting Washington, and Wyoming (8-0) journeying to New Mexico.

Last week the Hoople System — kaff-kaff — correctly forecast that Miami would knock Virginia Tech from the ranks of the unbeaten and that Yale's Bulldogs would do the same to Dartmouth. We narrowly missed on our UCLA-Oregon State forecast when the Uclans rallied to boot three field goals for a 16-16 tie — um-kumph!

This week our Three-Star Special is Penn State to end the North Carolina State streak at eight games by edge.

The Old Boy Himself
ing the Wolfpack, 15-7. And remember, you read it first in the Hoople Forecast—har-rumph!

In the other big attractions listed above I like Indiana to whip the Spartans, 26-8, and the lightning fast Purdue boys over the powerful, but ponderous Gophers, 22-12.

It will be Georgia 21, Florida 12; L.S.U. 26, Alabama 17; Kentucky 7, Vanderbilt 0; Auburn 17, Miss. State 13; Texas A&M 32, S.M.U. 10; North Texas State 31, Wichita State 13.

Dr. I. M. Inorbit, our West Coast correspondent who is on leave from the Cape Kennedy Space Center, assures us that Southern California will hold on to its No. 1 rating by turning back the tough Beavers, 26-19, UCLA will top Washington, 10-8, and Wyoming's Cowboys will ride roughshod over New Mexico, 37-3.

Now on with the forecast.

Graceful Rebound

With a graceful leap, Piston Dave DeBusschere (22) takes a rebound away from Knicks' Walt Bellamy (8) during the first half of the Detroit-New York game. Detroit won, 110-108. (UPI)

Despite Injuries

Kombrink Might Lead MU To Another Title

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP)—Don't be surprised if Gary Kombrink, Missouri's little blonde senior quarterback from Belleville, Ill., leads the Tigers to another strong finish this fall despite a series of painful injuries.

Mizzou snapped back to knock Oklahoma out of the race 10-7 and beat Kansas 7-0 last year for a 6-3-1 finish. The Tigers currently stand 5-2. A sweep of the last three with Kansas State, Nebraska and Kansas would yield an 8-2 mark compared to a 7-2-1 regular season for MU's Sugar Bowl champs two years ago.

The 5-foot-10, 180-pound senior currently is trying to recuperate from a badly bruised shoulder and he has dental problems. Earlier in the season he was hampered by bruised ribs and a back injury.

But if you ask him how he feels, he always replies, "I'm fine."

Kombrink hears a lot of criticism of his passing, but the record is clear — he's an accurate passer from short to medium range when not banged up. He was 8-for-8 in the season opener with Minnesota a year ago. This fall he passed for 132 yards in the second game against Northwestern, and shocked the Wildcats with a 40-yarder on the first play.

As a runner, he's No. 1 among Big Eight quarterbacks with 467 net yards. In fact, his 563 total gain is more than any conference player at any position but he's had 96 yards in losses, mostly trying to pass.

"Some day, we may look back and realize Gary was one of the best men who ever played for Missouri," said Coach Dan Devine recently. "I'm not just making excuses when I say most people who criticize Gary wouldn't even go to the game if they felt as bad as Gary does."

Kombrink was a 12-for-28 passer in a two-game span before the Big Eight opener at Colorado, where he hurt his back. Since then, he's 5-for-28 with 5 intercepted in four league games.

Missouri also lost its only breakaway halfback, Jon Staggers, a week before the Colorado game. This put an extra burden on Kombrink but he dashed 75 yards for a touchdown and an early 7-6 lead. Colorado won 23-9.

K-State this Saturday is something of a milestone for Kombrink. He made his first collegiate start against K-State in 1965, subbing for injured Gary Lane. Kombrink ran well and was a 6-for-9 passer that day before a deep heel bruise stopped him. He still wears a special plastic cup to protect the heel.

Kombrink is a soft-spoken psychology student at Mizzou. On the field he's a smart and spunky leader, elected co-captain by his teammates. Like his father, he was a baseball catcher in high school, but chose football.

"It was my choice," he said. "My parents just want me to do well at whatever I do."

Bowling Tourney Attracting Many

The Senior Citizens State Bowling Tournament to be held in Sedalia is attracting a large number of bowlers for the meet which will be held at the Broadway Lanes Nov. 25-26. Entries for the tournament will close this Sunday.

This tournament is for bowlers 55-years of age and over. It is not necessary to bowl in a Senior League to be eligible.

Entry forms are available at Brunswick Hillcrest Lanes and Broadway Lanes and are to be mailed to John E. Lewis, 3247 Jefferson Street, Kansas City, Mo.

The power running fullback chugged for 108 yards in 26 carries, bringing his season's total to 822, 151 more than Garrett.

Nance's running ended a string of two subpar performances against New York and Oakland in which he managed barely over 50 yards gained in each game.

Shift Players

Find Solution To Sticky Issue

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Associated Press regional All America board has a solution to its Wayne Meylan-Granville Liggins problem at middle guard — move one of 'em to another position on the first team.

Since Nebraska's Meylan is the incumbent first team All America middle guard and playing better than ever, Oklahoma's Liggins is the one most likely to be moved — either to middle linebacker or defensive tackle.

The board also rates blitzing safety Dick Anderson of Colorado and 274-pound tackle Joe Greene of North Texas as prime first team prospects on defense, with K-State linebacker Danny Lanks and Colorado Tackle Frank Bosch next.

On offense, the board rates tackle Bob Kalsu of Oklahoma, Guard Kirk Tracy of Colorado and center Jon Kolb of Oklahoma State as worthy of first team All America.

It isn't a bit far-fetched to put Liggins at tackle or middle linebacker. He stunts and rushes the passer like a tackle and chases down runners like a linebacker on wide plays.

Players unfortunate enough to have faced both men are in general agreement that Meylan, 6-foot-2 and 239, is the strongest middle guard in the nation, while Liggins, 5-11 by 216, is the quickest and fastest. But they hasten to add that Meylan is also quick and Liggins also strong.

One board member, sports editor Bob Broeg of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, had this to say after watching Liggins against Colorado:

"Coach Chuck Fairbanks told me that he considers Liggins the finest defensive lineman he ever saw and, brother, I believe it."

Another board member, sports director Dave Blackwell of KMTV, Omaha, watched Meylan against Iowa State, then reported, "I can't say enough about Meylan — he's having the greatest year I've ever seen a defensive player have. He has completely dominated his blockers."

Missouri's Roger Wehrli, a dangerous runback man who missed three games with an ulcer, rates close to Anderson. At linebacker, Mike Sweatman of Kansas and John Douglas of Missouri rate close to Lanks. The Missouri Valley's top defensive back, ranking just behind Greene in the All America picture, is Tulsa's Doug Wyatt. He is tough and fast. The top defensive ends are John Koller of Oklahoma and John Zook of Kansas.

Offensively, quarterback is now a three-cornered affair between Bob Warmack of Oklahoma, Bob Douglass of Kansas and Bob Anderson of Oklahoma. The best tight ends are Jim Zamberlan of Louisville, John Mosier of Kansas and Steve Zabel of Oklahoma, the best wide receivers Rick Eber of Tulsa and Dave Jones of K-State, with three others close. Dick Davis of Nebraska and Jack Reynolds lead the fullbacks with Missouri's Barry Lischner close.

Luncheon Group Is Announced

As Sedalia Cup competition nears final plans, the Friends of Soccer Luncheon were announced today by the tournament committee. Jimmy Glenn of KDRO will serve as toastmaster for the program to be held at the Holiday Inn, with welcomes extended by Mayor Ralph Walker, for the City of Sedalia, Carl Yates of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce, and Robert Hausam of the local Khourey League.

Paul Klover, Khourey Circuit Director, will make four special Awards of Appreciation and introduction of special guests from the various soccer areas in the Central Missouri Circuit.

Local sponsors of the Khourey Soccer Association in Sedalia will be honored guests of the league and are urged to attend the 2 p.m. affair. Coaches, managers, and parents are cordially invited to attend the event which will also include film of this year's season and introductions of Junior Team members and their coaches.

Tickets are on sale for the Nov. 11 and 12 games at Jennie Jaynes Stadiums, with Saturday's contest slated at 7 p.m. and 8:30 p.m., while Sunday finals will get underway at 1 p.m.

Otterville Defeats Bunceton

The Otterville Eagles downed Bunceton's Dragons Tuesday night at Otterville, 56-44. The two teams played identical ball until the fourth quarter, when Otterville found extra scoring power to defeat their opponents by 12 points.

High scorers for Otterville were Gerke and Bishop, with 15 points each. Bunceton was led by Draffen, also with 15.

In girl's basketball, Bunceton salvaged a part of the night's action, defeating Otterville 33-32. Toellner was high scorer for Bunceton with 15 points, while Jackie Gochenour had 19 for Otterville.

Score by quarters:
Otterville 13 7 10 26 — 56
Bunceton 13 7 10 14 — 44

Individual scoring: Otterville — Hardy, 12, Marcum, 11; Gerke, 15; Bishop, 15; Potter, 3; Bunceton — Dreffen, 15; Serck, 6; Warnbrodt, 2; McKee, 14; ShROUT, 7.

Bob Rule of Seattle and the Hawks' Gene Tornohlen were ejected for fighting near the end of the first half.

Detroit surged from a five-point deficit, 84-79, after three quarters to an 11-point lead, 110-99, with 1:34 left and then went on to beat the Knickerbockers.

'Bullet' Defeats Royals

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Cincinnati Royals were shot down by a small caliber Bullet.

Guard Johnny Egan—listed in the National Basketball Association guide as 5-foot-11, making him the league's smallest player, gunned in 26 points Wednesday night and helped the Baltimore Bullets snap a six-game losing streak with a 122-100 victory over the Royals.

St. Louis, hotter than a pistol in the Western Division, won its 13th game in 14 starts, 111-96 over Seattle; Detroit edged New York 110-108 and Philadelphia downed San Diego 129-114 in other scheduled NBA games.

In American Basketball Association action, New Jersey drubbed Pittsburgh 120-97, Minnesota outlasted Kentucky 106-92, Indiana defeated New Orleans 109-101, Denver whipped Oakland 118-97 and Anaheim beat Houston 104-100.

Egan sparked the Bullets to a 15-0 burst in the final three minutes of the third quarter as they built up an 87-71 lead at the end of the period. He then scored 17 of his points in the final quarter as the Bullets coasted home.

Ways to Get Around Those 'Beatle' Haircuts

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY—I am answering Mr. Troubled about teenagers' long hair. My husband and I let our boys' hair grow long, not as long as the Beatles but as long as their conduct was good. The hair must be cut if they disobey any rules for being good citizens. I have had the following clipping pasted on my bulletin board for four years and would like to pass it on: "Ever notice how many critics of teen-agers are middle-agers who wish they were teen-agers?"—KATHRYNE

DEAR POLLY—I think we have the solution for Mr. Troubled. Our sons also wanted to look like the other kids and have Beatle haircuts. We suggested that they have their hair cut like Mr. Spock on the TV series Star Trek. It is neat-looking as it is short in the back, bangs are short and the side burns come to a point instead of being squared off. This idea saved the day as we feel the boys look neat and clean and they are happy as all their friends think these haircuts are real cool. Here's hoping that we see more Mr. Spock haircuts.—MRS. L. E. B.

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY—Does anyone know how to clean men's neckties? My husband wears the ready tied ones and the knot under his chin gets soiled very quickly from skin oils. After shave lotion and gravy stains are always farther down on the ties. I know they can be dry cleaned but this is quite an expense.—L. J. B.

DEAR POLLY—There was a bad yellow stain in my sink and even though cleanser would remove it the stain would keep reappearing. I used an effervescent denture powder on it and the stain is gone for good.—MARGARET

DEAR POLLY—This Pointer came from a member of the Coast Guard who lost a friend due to exposure after his falling out of a boat. When boating, wear a dime store whistle around your neck. This man's boat capsized and he evidently grew too tired from calling. His friend felt a shrill whistle would have been heard by the searchers.—MRS. A. J. H.

NOTICE OF TRUSTEES SALE
For default in the payment of principal and interest as provided by the note secured by Deed of Trust executed by Kenneth D. Chesser and Bernice L. Chesser, his wife, recorded on December 8, 1964, in book 408 at page 22 in the office of the Recorder of Deeds of Henry County, Missouri, at Clinton, conveying to Henry C. Salvester, Trustee, the following described property in Henry County, Missouri, to wit:

All of Lot One (1) and the Southeast Third-three (33) feet of Lot Two (2), in Block Ten (10), of Union Addition to the City of Windsor, Henry County, Missouri.

The entire debt secured by said Deed of Trust having been declared due by the holder thereof, and at the request of legal holder of said note, the said Trustee will on Friday, November 17, 1967, between the hours of 9 o'clock a.m. and 5 o'clock p.m. at the north front door of the Court House in the City of Clinton, Henry County, Missouri, sell the above described real estate at public vendue to the highest bid, for cash, to satisfy said debt and costs.

Henry C. Salvester, Trustee

PUBLIC NOTICE

Pursuant to the provisions of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, notice is hereby given that The Sedalia Broadcasting Corporation, licensee of Station KDRO, Sedalia, Missouri, has filed an application with the Federal Communications Commission for renewal of its license to operate Station KDRO, on 1490 Kilocycles. The officers, directors and owners of 10 percent or more of the stock are: James F. Glenn, Herbert W. Brandes and Milton J. Hinlein. The application of this station for renewal of its license to operate this station in the public interest was tendered for filing with the Federal Communications Commission on October 26, 1967.

Members of the public who desire to bring to the Commission's attention facts concerning the operation of the station should write to the Federal Communications Commission, Washington, D.C. 20554, not later than November 24, 1967. Letters should set forth in detail the specific facts which the writer wishes the Commission to consider in passing on this application. A copy of the application and related material are on file for public inspection at 3106 West Broadway, Sedalia, Missouri.

Mrs. Stanley Luebbering

Mary Beth Ketterlin Marries Stanley Luebbering October 21

St. Andrew's Catholic Church, Tipton, was the setting of the half past one o'clock Saturday, October 21, marriage of Miss Mary Beth Ketterlin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Ketterlin, Tipton, and Mr. Stanley Luebbering, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Luebbering, Tipton. The Rev. Herbert Kramer performed the ceremony before an altar decorated with baskets of white gladioli.

Mrs. James Briscoe, organist accompanied Mrs. Orville Courtney, soloist, as she sang traditional wedding selections.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a floor length Empire gown of imported peau de soie, fashioned with sweetheart neckline and long sleeves tapering to a point at the wrists. Reembroidered Alencon lace studded with pearls ornamented the skirt front. A removable chapel train cascaded from the waistline, also sprinkled with lace and pearls. A profile bandeau of lace over peau de soie flowers accented with seed pearls held her elbow length veil of imported silk illusion. The bride's bouquet was outlined in white carnations and a white cattleya orchid, centered with a 50 year old white prayer book carried by the bride's mother and grandmother.

Maid of honor was Miss Linda Orscheln, Jefferson City, and bridesmaids were Mrs. Ernest Ekstam Jr., and Miss Jane Ketterlin, sisters of the bride, and Mrs. Leroy Pedego, Kansas City. Junior bridesmaid was Miss Martha Ketterlin, also a sister of the bride. Their floor length gowns with scoop neckline and full long sleeves with tight cuff trimmed with pearl studs, were of persimmon chiffon. They wore matching tiered veils held by a Dior bow of tulle trimmed with velvet leaves. Each carried a cascade of yellow fuji chrysanthemums tied with moss green velvet ribbons.

Miss Debbie Luebbering, flower girl and niece of the groom, carried a basket filled with tangerine carnation petals and a rosary made of white pompon chrysanthemums which the bride presented to the Blessed Virgin.

Mr. Earl Luebbering, Smithton, brother of the groom, was best man and the groomsmen were Mr. Leroy Knipp, Mr. Ernest Ekstam Jr., and Mr. Daniel Oligschlaeger. Ringbearer was Joseph Ketterlin, brother of the bride.

Guests were seated by Mr. Sidney Luebbering, Mr. Arnie Knipp, Mr. Bill Knipp and Mr. David Franken.

Will Present 'Cyrano' At Church Here

Rostand's famed "Cyrano de Bergerac" will be presented by the Inspiration Players in the sanctuary of Calvary Episcopal Church Nov. 28, it was announced today.

The humorous, inspiring story of a man with the longest nose in classic literature will be presented by a professional touring company. The group is interdenominational and performs modern and classic dramas across the country.

The Inspiration Players perform without sets. They use a minimum of hand props and a maximum effort to costume the show with an eye for color and authenticity. The play will be reduced to its basic essentials.

For ticket information contact the church or the Rev. William E. Lusk, rector.

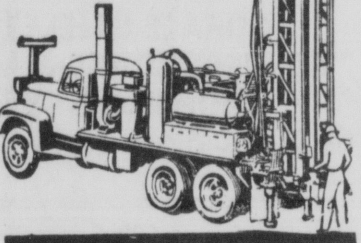

dress with brown accessories. Cymbidium orchids tied with gold velvet ribbon completed her attire.

A reception followed the ceremony at St. Andrew's Church hall and a dinner was held at 5 p.m.

Assisting at the reception were Mrs. Harry Monks Jr., Miss Greer Bass and Miss Mary Ann Lutz. Mrs. Ronald Claas was at the guest book and Miss Mary Carolyn Wolf assisted with the flowers. At the gift table were Mrs. Leroy Knipp, Mrs. Sidney Duebbert and Miss Patty Bret.

The couple reside in Tipton where both are employed by the Tipton Building Co.

ESSER DRIVE THRU

IN THE NEWS

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP) — James F. Smith of Nickerson, Kan., had just pulled onto Kansas 96 Highway after filling his gas tank when another car drove out of a side street in front of him.

Swerving to avoid smashing broadside into the other vehicle, Smith's car flipped over.

Smith walked back to the service station and sold his extensively damaged car for $4.50—just what it cost him to fill the gas tank moments earlier.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors says it's okay to buy a new car now—and has resumed buying county vehicles after a week's moratorium.

The county imposed a "buyer's boycott" to bring pressure on Detroit automakers in the battle over the clean air act in Congress. A proposed amendment by Rep. John Dingell, R-Mich., which would have limited California's power to set auto emission standards, was defeated.
